dedications

Mr. H.D. Waghorne, Head of the History Department, is retiring after thirty-seven years of teaching at our school.

He received his secondary school education at the BCI&VS, during which time he won the Preston Silver Medal for Oratory. Following a BA course at McMaster University, in 1933 he began his teaching career, which included the subjects of English, geography, penmanship, health, aircraft recognition, commando training and general physical education. Later he concentrated on the teaching of history, earned his Specialist's Certificate in physical education and became a qualified cadet instructor.

Mr. Waghorne was a successful coach of senior rugby and basketball teams as well as rifle teams. The latter won two Dominion trophies in RMC and DCRA competitions. A trophy donated by him for inter-school rifle competition was never lost by the BCI&VS. For many years he conducted Students' Council elections and was a long-time advisor to this body.

We are grateful for Mr. Waghorne's invaluable contribution to our school both in and outside of the classroom. We wish him many happy and rewarding years of retirement.

mr. waghorne

mr. milroy

Mr. Milroy joined the staff of the BCI&VS in September of 1940 as a teacher of electricity after having had extensive experience in the field of industrial electricity. In 1959 he assumed the position of Technical Director and was in a large way responsible for the excellent facilities which were installed in the new technical wing, opened in September of 1963. For a period of six years he served as Principal of Night School.

His extracurricular activities include membership in the Kiwanis Club, chairmanship of the Kiwanis BCI&VS Key Club Committee and service, in the past, as staff advisor to the school's Key Club. In addition, he is an active church worker and an Elder of the Brant Avenue United Church. An ardent baseball fan, he loves fishing and has played the saxophone in local dance bands.

The prime concern of Mr. Milroy has always been with the welfare of his students. He has the respect of staff and students alike and his influence will long be felt by those who have been associated with him. To you, Mr. Milroy, we extend our best wishes for the years to come and hope that you will visit us often.

principal's foreword

It is trite to point out that we are in the midst of an information explosion. The field of knowledge is expanding and changing all around us at such a rapid pace that it has become impossible for us to keep abreast. It has become a futile exercise to appreciate and digest fully the cumulative and ever increasing sum of factual material in every or any subject discipline. It therefore becomes our responsibility to learn through inquiry, investigation, and evaluation, as well as to establish fundamental concepts and processes. Otherwise we will be drawn into a sea of information that will engulf us. As one educator put the matter, "It is no longer possible to learn all about a subject but only what a subject is all about."

In essence, it is incumbent on all of us to know how to think. The process of education and the acquisition of knowledge are based on the premise that we are learning to learn.

president's message

Longfellow wrote once in his poem "Psalm of Life":

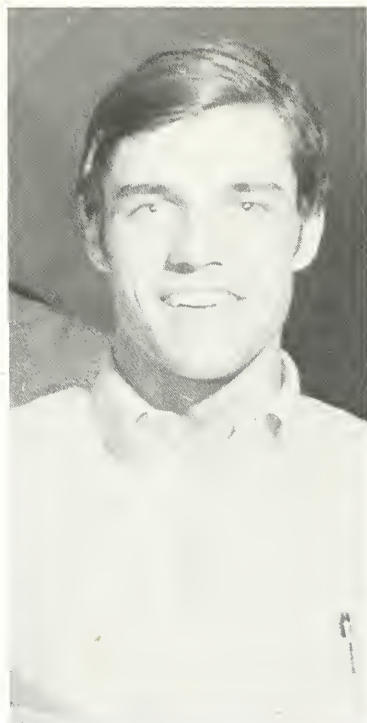

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And, departing, leave behind us
Footsteps in the sands of time;
Let us then be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

What better way is there than this to epitomize the youth of today, or is it? Great men didn't become great through apathy or disenchantment. They didn't become great through human weaknesses in our society or in their characters. No, great men became great through involvement and prevision. They became great by learning from the weaknesses of others and adopting the strengths into themselves.

Gibbon said that "success in life depends much upon improving those decisive involvements which are irrevocably lost before they are perceived by a common eye". I plead that we, the young, look to the future, refer to the past and live in the present. We have been given much but we also have much to give.

"But I have promises to keep", said Robert Frost, "And miles to go before I sleep, And miles to go before I sleep."

grads

5a13

Martin Abeles Plans: To get to university or die trying. Destiny: To die trying. "Sarcasm is a poor substitute for wit."

Scot Adams Scott, who is from the good old Tech, stream has some difficulty adjusting to 13a's new way of life. To escape boredom in a certain class he imitates his favorite teacher.

Sue Arbuckle "Yeah, I don't know." Activities: Miss Cheerleader, G.A.S., basketball, Track, gymnastics. Nickname: "Clutch". Future: Queens for Physical Education.

Mary Armstrong Activities: Krocodyl, Red Cross, Hello Business, Ski Club, Curling, interform sports. Ambition: University and eventually, teaching. "A man can't be judged by what other people say about him, but by what he says about others."

Doug Baile

Bonnie Assin Pastime: Making everybody happy. "Is it here yet?" Destiny: Mink ranch tycoon. Activities: Volleyball, basketball, G.A.S. Bonnie is such a happy person that she just "Floods" over with joy.

William Balian Everything that Syd undertakes is bound to be a great success! B.C.I. will miss this wholesome fellow next year when he heads to university for Geography. "One thing is forever good; that one is success."

Scott Barrie When Scott "Berry" isn't fooling around in class, he is usually goofing off in the Audio-Visual Department. His plans for next year will probably have something to do with motorcycles and women, in that order.

Patti Beres Patti kept the boys busy this year. Her favorite class was Math. Activities: Better not mention-ed.

Paul Bewick Famous for his two appearances in French class. Spends a lot of time at the Kirby house. Deals in foreign sports cars.

Frank Binkley Frank likes grass because it's green. Activities: Football captain, track, hockey coach, Key Club, weekend trips. Frank intends to record "Give a cheer" for the benefit of future B.C.I. students.

Joy Birkett "Ich verstehe nicht", "Je ne comprends pas", or just "I don't understand". (A real trilingualist.) Pastimes: Advanced doodling, imitations of Mary Hopkins, Michelangelo. Future: Languages or Social Work. Joy has taken an active interest in the military — that's patriotism!

Gord Blower Gord is the perfect example of genius being held back by an antiquated school system. Plans: Ryerson for Radio and TV arts.

Zbyszek Borowicz

Martin Bowering True to the orange and green of N.P.C. (orange hair, green eyes). Martin wears his sunglasses on his belt instead of on his eyes.

Dennis Bremner Rudolf plans to travel to B.C. for biochemistry at Simon Fraser. In his six (seven?) years at B.C.I. he has been active in football, euchre, stepping outside and smiling innocently.

Mary Margaret Brown This bubbly enthusiast has been an asset to B.C.I. spirit in Red Cross and managing senior girls' volleyball and basketball. Pet Peeve: Being called "Mary".

Sue Brown Small but mighty, this ferocious prefect keeps things in order at noon. When not at school, she can usually be found banging the cash register at Calbeck's. The proctor at Western better watch out next year, or Sue will have her job.

Pat Bruner For the forest to be green, the trees must be green. The natural state of man is joy.

Barb Butler "Quiet but sexy." This striking young lady will knock the doctors dead in Nursing at Mac. Can Sandy keep his eye on her? Active in Red Cross, Prefecting, and never missed a chance to leave French early.

Jim Butler It seems Jim recruited people for card games so that he could be sure of winning.

Roger Campbell "Whatever you say, sir." Another card shark who helped his partner win many times. It was harder last year, wasn't it, Roger?

Connie Carmichael

Ted Carriere No one ever sees him long enough to get to know him. Ambition: to get one roadster working. Destiny: Collecting scrap for the metal yard.

Hugh Carson

Rick Carson His activities included guitar playing (for some girl, probably) and football in the Grade Thirteen Room.

Dennis Carter This laughter was 13c's girl watcher. He loved to stand in the hall, as the teachers did, and watch a certain tall blonde go by.

Darlana Cavers

Eileen Chan "I'd be gone by then." Destiny: Pharmacy at U. of T. Activities: Camera Club Program Chairman, Prefect. Assets: Long Fingernails.

Rick Charbonneau

Randy Churchill While at B.C.I. Randy was active in sports, especially gymnastics. So watch out girls, he's a swinger.

Deidre Clement Spent her first and last years of high school at B.C.I. There are rumours that she is a relation of a certain Math teacher.

Phil Cockram If anyone needs someone to set up a riot, Phil will arrange it.

Marlene Cohen "Oy vay." Future Plans: Marlene looks forward to working with children next year in Toronto.

George Coveos George has succeeded in learning our lingo and in passing essential Greek to us. Destiny: Engineering for the Greek Army. Pet Peeve: Canadian girls.

Murray Corke For a guy who's been at B.C.I. for six years, he seems to have his major interests at N.P.C. Minor interests include Hockey, CWOSSA Badminton, and further education.

Susan Sowhey Susie's plans will take her to Carleton or Western for the marriage degree and possibly one in journalism. Her moods vary like a thermometer, but happiness really turns her on.

John Cox John takes delight in bombing around town, usually during class. To him, we leave a book on cramming.

Barb Cranston Barb plans to go to Western for modern languages so she can communicate better with Frenchmen. She has participated in Track and Field, U.N. and Debating Club, G.A.S. and the Hello Editorial Staff.

Doug Crews Doug plans to go to Western for Business Administration and the "Apartment". Destiny: Author of "Safe Driving at High Speeds".

Pat Croley The only guy with a "Beak" in his hair. Pet Peeve: "Up to the board, Croley." Destiny: Sex pervert.

Nelson Cuthbert Nels is 13a's answer to Einstein. Attaining "fair" (85-100) marks, he cools off playing hour long chess games. Heading for Waterloo.

Henny Delanges Next year she is off to help the suffering by entering Nursing. "The exotic girls are the challenge."

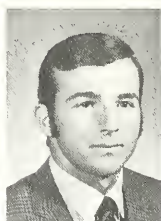

Alan DeMille
Jane Devereux

Bill Dimmick "Real neat." Bill is active in football and protesting. Destiny: Educated bum.

Kent Elcomb Good ol' Hank's headed for O.C.A. taking a lot away from B.C.I. — sex, booze and money (in that order). Known for: Swiping "needy" school equipment. Destiny: Taking the same things from O.C.A. as he did from B.C.I.

Victor Estevan Card fever hit the brain from St. John's, that takes great pleasure in writing on blackboards. One for Terry. . .

Gerry Fairchild 13's gum chewing, football playing tamer boy. Known for his subtle manners and quiet 4 voice. "Gerald, get that gum out of your mouth!"

Joanne Fenik The one with the long flowing hair, who is often mistaken for "Joan". Future Plans: Waterloo for Sociology.

Kathy Fleming She's confusing to listen to, but delightful to hear. Activities: Drama, Campus Life. Plans: Occupational therapy, maybe at Western.

Brenda Friesan Brenda has some good morning conversations with John. Too bad she won't tell us what she wants to reach for.

Anne Fullerton Assets: One bugle. Ambition: To set up a defence against Mr. Lewis. Plans: Galt or Guelph? Destiny: Horn player for Mitch Miller.

Alex Galloway Good morning, sunshine.

Trish Cannaw This Perisite is keeping tabs on a certain person at B.C.I.

Anne Gardner Anne plans to attend Queens for Physical Education and then to physically educate in a high school or a "Y". She has been active in G.A.S., gymnastics and she was Editor of last year's Hello.

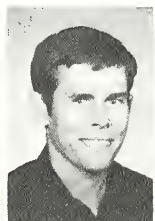

Janice Gibbs Jake doesn't do much around the school besides volleyball, basketball, Students' Council, G.A.S., form rep., etc., etc. Destiny: Raising little brownies.

Martha Gladman

Cathy Grieve Cathy likes the ratios in Physics. She plans to go to Guelph for Home Ec., where she also likes the ratios. Finances will be obtained by tinkering around (selling pots and pans).

Pierre Guerin "Je n'eus pas mieux dis." Pierre has come to Canada to share his culture with our future citizens. He is a friendly asset to our school and plans to enter the teaching profession.

Rudy Guit The outspoken person of 13c, was Jim's partner in crime. His accomplishments cannot be mentioned here.

John Hall Destiny: Breaking records at various universities or ski slopes. Plans: A St. Bernard's helper. "Where did you go for lunch?"

Brenda Harris Another one of 13a's imports. We made a deal, though. Favorite Saying: "Poop!" Destiny: Waterloo for B.Sc.

Sally Hawson Plans: Western or Queens. Activities: Skiing, Library, Skiing. Pet Peeve: Parking her V.W.

Heather Hewson This girl shattered French class with her perpetual hijinks.

Sharon Hicks Pastime: Picking up boys who need rides. Assets: One crowded little car. Destiny: Laughter on Rowan and Martin's Laugh In.

Kate Hignell Ambition: Centennial College for Communication. Destiny: First telephone repair woman. Activities: Library, Red Cross.

Evelyn Hill Known to excel in spares. Future Plans: Far, far away. Pet Peeve: Getting up and going to bed.

Louise Hitchon Activities: Volleyball, G.A.S., Track and Field, Ski Club and Cheerleading. Future: Teaching.

Mary Hobbs Pet Peeve: The first blackboard inside Room 307. Annie Hoshowsky

Debbie Huffaker Huffabear plans to take Natural Sciences at Western next year but if she flunks out, she will major in zoo-keeping. She did nothing but attend school faithfully (intermittently).

Liz Inns Noted for being a dumb blonde. Activities: Debating Club, Drama Club.

Bob Ion Bagger seems to be a little quieter this year. It could be those letters he gets from the office in the morning. Intended Future: O.C.A. Probable Future: Mailman.

Eleanor James "Hit the road." Pastimes: Playing Fish and learning Euchre. Future: Fish Champion of the Thirteens. Your puns are corny, but I'm all ears.

Jerry Jellis Besides being active in football, Track, and Students' Council, Jerry is an avid collector of magazines. His future is as undecided as his weekends.

Hal Johnson One of B.C.I.'s most active Mustangs. Where does he get his get-up-and-go? From candy, of course.

John Kabucis Interests: Volleyball, broads, basketball, golf, billiards. Assets: Dominating stature to trample grade nines and stray rodents. Ambition: N.B.A. Basketball for Pittsburg's Polyester Poon Tags.

Dave Kennedy "Anyone wanna try my tractor?" Assets: One good used tractor. Dave is the only one we know who keeps an invoice in his notebooks.

Bill Kitchen Even though Bill does not want to be a lawyer, he wishes to become a member in the Bar association.

Terry Kirby A great football and track star. Too much Biology can cause a person to fail, "Can these things be And overcome us like a summer's cloud Without our special wonder?"

Margaret Kneale Margaret has many assets, one of which being if you get in trouble with her, her father can help you.

Sandy Kovack Sandy has a habit of dropping in unexpectedly. To him we give a flashlight.

Eric Kovack Burford boy hits the big city. Favorite Habit: Shrugging his shoulders. Destiny: To finish grade 13.

Jack Krantz Jack gives many "weighted" answers. Activities: Intramural sports and Drama. An active booster of J.A.

Dave Krick
Armin Kruk

Alice Kuyvenhoven This quiet person of average intelligence set 13c right back where it all started — no place. To Alice we leave a wig.

Alexandra Lanzalone Sandy came to us from Providence to enlighten our French class with Italian cliches. Next year she plans on a language course at U. of T.

Mark Lawrence Interests: Skiing, Beta, Terrors, Blue Pig. Asset: Fast car. Destiny: Waterloo for Geography and Pornography.

Charles Learn Pet Peeve: Buzzards.

Larry Lehman Activities: Sleeping in Math class. To Larry we leave a judo course for protection against swinging females.

John Leitch Activities: Basketball and flipping coins. Come on, John, what are you saying to Brenda? "A woman's kiss leaves much to be desired — usually the rest of her."

Ken Lewis Whenever Ken shows up, he gives us the breakdown of what's to come. Secret Ambition: Math tutor.

Robin Lewis "Deep down in my heart, Mary, you have this psychological halo. . . ." Pet Peeve: People who arrive at school before 8:45. Destination: Guelph University, Wellington College. In spring the birds shall hopefully have flown.

Gerri Lightle The party hopper likes to bomb around in a Volkswagen. While at school, she gets male attention wherever she is.

Angie Longo "A little baby! A real one!" Pet Peeve: Playing games in French. Pastime: Selling men's underwear at Woolco. Future: Probably Western for arts.

Marg Loveday Don't let this girl deceive you. You might have to defend yourself against her.

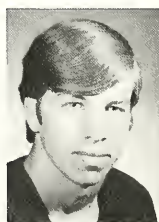

Jim Lund

Allan MacDonald Ambition: To pass French and get classes in the middle of the day. Probable Destiny: French scholar.

Gary MacDonald Future Plans: To replace the other Garney Henley. Activities: Football, Track, Basketball, Students' Council, B.A.S., Prefect, Key Club — the only thing he isn't in is G.A.S. Prize Possession: A mother who won the Headmaster's Trophy.

Craig Malloy Went AWOL to join the Forresters. Destiny: Smokey the Bear.

Sheena Marcella

Wayne Marr Pet Peeve: "At Home Courses." Destiny %90 on the "At Home Courses". Pastime: Guess! "Who?"

Larry Marsh Activities: Key Club, Computer Science, Euchre in the Common Room, Science Club, Extramural sports. Future Plans: University for Geography.

Grant McConachie Pastime: Euchre in the Grade Thirteen Room. Future: Mac., for fun. Activities: Curling, President of Library Club.

Nancy McConkey

Ian McDonald Activities: Key Club, Ski Club, Student's Council, Interform sports, and just being an all-round shy guy — the kind you have to watch. Ambition: University for Business Administration. "Ah, why should life all labour be?"

Ron McDonald

Susan McGillivray Sue is a very friendly girl. Her favorite pastime is — but then she doesn't talk much. Next year it's Waterloo to WOOOO!

Jim McGoldrick Jim hopes to attend U. of T. or Western for medicine. Destiny: Teaching Scottish in a Canadian school. Activities: Soccer, chess, bowling.

Darryl McMaster "It's not how you play the game — so long as you win." Activities: Key Club, Referee, Track, hockey and His Fair Lady. Destiny: Stickboy for the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Gail Mellor Pet Peeve: Not making the finals in the Canadian Drum Corps Championship.

Wayne Messecar Wayne heads the teachers' fan club, being their favorite student. "It is better to quit playing cards than to lose what you have."

Frank Meszaros "I'll drink to that." Pet Peeve: Mr. Lewis. Frank doesn't drink, smoke or squirrel, and just loves mom's apple pie. Next year: Waterloo for more of the same.

Chris Middleton "Guess who's mad again?" Activities: Red Cross, French Club, Intramural sports. Destiny: Nursing. Chris has many fine Riches in her life.

Leone Miller

Ray Miller Pet Peeve: Work. Ambition: To marry a millionaire's daughter. Ray isn't very active in school but he's very out-going behind Dominion's meat counter.

Azam Mirza Known for shooting 100's on the range, trying to be good on Prefect duty, praying that everything goes OK for the Camera Club, skipping Science Club meetings (he's VP). "Here, there, and everywhere." Future: University of Western, Mac. or Guelph, longer weekend trips.

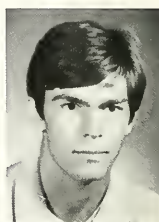

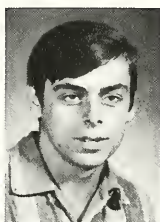

Candi Moldaver Next year: University for her Mrs. This sweet cheerleader is sure to excel in whatever she attempts. Best of luck, Candi!

Jim Noonan Jim's perfect attendance record was sometimes marred by coming to class after it was half over. Secret Hiding Place: Thirteen Room or sleeping at his locker.

Keith Oakes

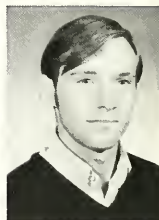

Dale Oattes 13a's basketball-playing Math wizard was a Colour House Captain this year. Next year he will be at Waterloo cheerleading the girls' basketball team and playing against the computers.

Jim O'Connell

Bill Oliver Assets: Four aces and ten dollars in I.O.U.'s. Liabilities: Rubber knees, expanding waistline. Prospects: Broom-pushing at O.P.P. Student Academy.

Kevin O'Neill

Sharon Pascoe Activities: Skiing, ice and roller skating, working in the Kiddies Department of the Brantford Public Library.

Tom Pappas Activities: Check last year's grads. Ambition: Physical Education at Western or Mac. — with luck. Destiny: Retiring to piece work on a stud farm.

Sheryl Patis The boys agree that Sheryl is the only one the teachers like. If it wasn't for her, we'd be in trouble.

Gail Percival Another one of the noisy girls in French class. Her prime ambition is to outtalk Heather.

Paul Petrie Paul should have gone to N.P.C. this year. While at B.C.I. Paul ran into many people — with his car.

Pam Phillips Future: McMaster or Guelph, to become a schoolteacher. Pam won't have to try for her Mrs. — she's already got her diamond.

Gloria Pollock Future: University? The only girl we know that wears boxer shorts and wants a pair of Golden Gloves for Christmas.

Marg Poplar Activities: Spiking, parking, dribbling, speeding, tearing, past V.P. of "The Group". Ambition: To outrun a freckled kilted Garney Henley and to outdo Helen.

Rick Prescott "What colour are we?" Activities: Secretary of B.A.S., the unknown Farmer.

Terry Prince Activities: Jungle Football. Ambition: To miss as many classes as possible, and still pass French. Plans: Waterloo or California. Destiny: Tobacco picker.

Sheryl Prowse This pretty little blonde is headed for Teachers' College, probably to help Kirk finish. Reluctantly known as "Crouty", activities include Drama and Mrs. Hall's pride and joy.

Roman Putkowski Assets: One green bomb. Ambition: To be a flashier dresser than Liberace. Destiny: Citizen of Burford, since he's hardly ever at B.C.I.

Helene Ramer Helene has had some trouble with Math. She can't seem to get a perfect mark. To her we leave a ruler autographed by Mr. Muller.

Geoff Read Geoff migrated out west in the fall. To him we send pictures of Mr. Lewis and Mr. Muller, to complete his collection.

Martha Rice Martha is quite an active girl. Her achievements include cheerleading, Students' Council, Variety Night, Winter Carnival, etc., etc.

Klaus Ristanovic Quiet but deadly. "Mouse" enjoys pizza from Gigi's and is said to have been seen in class once or twice.

Kathy Robins B.C.I.'s cute import from private school. Favorite Pastime: Eating very "sandy" sandwiches. Destiny: Mild indigestion.

Danny Ronson Activities: Football, hockey, Beta, Key Club, Krocodyl. Ambition: To get out of B.C.I. Next year to Teachers' College.

Howard Rotberg Heading for York, Queens, U. of T., Western, Carleton, Harvard, Yale or San Francisco State to study Political Science, Economics, or English to become a lawyer, teacher, hippie-poet or left-wing radical. "I haven't really made up my mind yet."

Jim Rowan The "Ratman" of the Dynamic Duo. Destiny: Western for Psychology.

Mary Ryerson

Sandy St. Louis Great at all types of "Jimmastics", badminton, volleyball, tennis, a Colour House Captain, on the G.A.S. and Students' Council. Future: Queens for Phys. Ed.

Audrey Sangster This language scholar gets more pleasure out of punching buttons in Dominion's than out of conjugating verbs. Future: Teachers' College.

Uve Schlegelmilch Our latest import from Germany. Destiny: Teaching "Andrea del Sarto" to English students.

Ken Sherman Pastime: Putting G.A.S. in debt by ruining truck tires. Destiny: Mending truck tires. Activities: Key Club, football, volleyball, trips to Toronto. Plans: Law.

Burt Sless 13d's Math brain who relishes in making up his own solutions to problems. Activities: Beta.

Bev Smith Thanks for everything, Bev — the kind word, the friendly smile, and the keeping Mr. Muller in place. Probably one of the most likely to succeed in the game of life.

Cathy Smith One of the smarter members of our Happy Throng. Cathy hopes to become a teacher someday. Achievements: Head bouncer of the "Perfects", Thirteen Room Reference Committee.

Rick Smith

John Stec John took great delight in confusing the girls before they could confuse him. "Many things have come to pass in this world, none of which I am to blame for — yet."

Linda Steiner Future: Guelph or Western for History. She'll probably re-write it! Activities: Drama, Library, her bubbling personality. It's nice to see Eliza and Caesar together.

Kerry Stirling Kerry likes to celebrate the end of the school year by throwing one of her parties. She usually has quite a bit to celebrate, too.

Heather Summerhayes Heather plans to study at the National Theatre School in Montreal. "The smile that is worth the praises of earth is the one that shines through tears."

Gail Storm Future Plans: Marriage. Activities: Music, Church groups, stamp-collecting, bowling.

Mike Sweet Mike has a major interest in hockey and hopes to obtain a scholarship in it. Activities include duck hunting, thumbing his nose and tearing around in his mine.

Paul Takacs Paul's doing well this year, but he gets peeved when anyone mispronounces his name.

Chris Tedley Chris plans to throw her lot in with the Canadian Armed Forces — Air Force, no less! Destiny: Co-pilot for Snoopy, to protect us from the Red Baron.

Brant Telfer Brant plans to go to Western for B. Sc. and join Doug in the "Apartment". Destiny: Applying Doug's rules on a 1963 Rambler S.B.

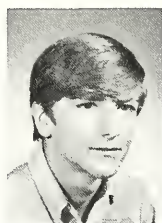

Jane Thompson Plans: University of Toronto for her M.S. "Every woman is born good. Experience makes her better."

Jim Thornton Jim was busy this year, both in Physics and in keeping things from Brenda. Jim, you can't floor the gas pedal and then shift from second gear to first.

Don Vance To Ed's partner in crime we leave one leather chair in the after school hang-out. Don is forever climbing higher.

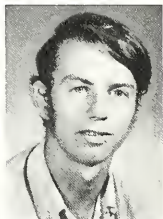

Claudine VanEvery Miss Six Nations returned this year. Her warm personality heats up the Grade Thirteen Room.

John Varey One of 13a's most studious scholars, and greatest athletic assets. He wishes to further his education by taking up Cathy at Waterloo. Pet Peeve: Time — there isn't enough.

Gary Vaughn

Gary Verkade "Pick a number. You win! — ! Gross-out king of 13a. Probable Destiny: Trying to wash the sores off his middle finger.

Jim Volk Extra "credit" and good luck for next year at university should be given to Jim, another of our part-time students.

Bruce Wells Bruce got his sideburns this year. They really help with that executive look for Students' Council.

Bill West Bill plans to go to Western for B. Sc. and the "Apartment" with Doug and Brant. Destiny: Labbatt's brewmaster.

Steve Whitby Ludlow's boy about town. How's the shoe business, Steve? "There's a lot of sole in it." Future Plans: Unknown to all.

Wendy Wilkinson Future: Hamilton Teachers' College. Activities: Trumping her partners in the Grade Thirteen Room. Noted For: Coming in late and weekend trips to Detroit.

Sally Williams Our import from St. Thomas. Future Plans: Guelph for Fine Arts. Ambition: To go to university and become a "Dean".

Donna Wilson Donna has kept a sharp eye on St. John's. Her destiny will probably be shoving as many people as possible into a Volkswagen. "That old vacant house!?"

4a12

Bob Abrey Everything's better with Chris Barnett on it. Probable Destiny: Selling toupees to bald gorillas.
Liz Aitchison Looking for a moe on leg. Probable Destiny: To raise little moes with Cathy?

Gary Beckett Gary (or something). Well, you know. Rod Bryan The only guy who gets %100 and still scrounges for marks. George Bucek George doesn't let school interfere with his education. Reg Cawston Somehow, everyone knows when Reg is nearby. Blain Childerhose In his spare time, Blain attends school. Ken Eadie "Farmer" is 12f's tough Ploughboy. Bill Emmott Bill sleeps in school because it's the only chance he gets. Jim Fedorenko "Minnesota's" only problem is getting the ball in the pocket. Brian Fenney His car does ten miles an hour — if it starts. Ron Geshgarian He loves B.C.I. so much, he doesn't want to leave. Terry George "Yamaha" would get along fine if he could keep out of the ditches. Dave Hankinson Dave's downfall is a Mini Cooper without a synchronized first gear. Jamie Hignell Born and bred in blue track shoes. Ian MacKellar Probable Destiny: Riding Colonel Saunder's White Horse. Al Moffat "Who did I step on this time?" Larry Nemeth If "Duke" can't do it, there's no use in 12F even trying. John Nightingale John lives in a yellow speckled submarine with screen doors. Randy Prince The only shadow you can find on a cloudy day. Keith Proctor The only "Super Newfy" within one thousand miles of Brantford. Gerry Small We don't know much about Gerry, but maybe it's best that way. Nick Wenzel Dark, quiet and "never mind". Rick White 12f's joke supply. Rick, it's really you we're laughing at. Frank Winkler Frank lives for the weekend.

to the best of my agility

a short story by JoAnne Merritt

A militant blast brings the troop to attention momentarily. Then they scatter, each to a preordained post. A pair of keenly perceptive eyes inspect the ranks. For a brief moment shock registers in those cold calm eyes and I glance fearfully at my uniform. Oh, I am destined to bear this stain on my reputation for the rest of my life — a stubborn black streak on my left sneaker. I hang my head in shame and embarrassment. The inspectress pronounces my sentence with sadistic delight, "Be in the gym area in full uniform by eight a.m. tomorrow morning."

The martial aura of physical education classes has never really impressed me.

After another shrill blast; the squads disperse. They stand erect and attentive, prepared for the rigorous routine that now confronts them. All eyes turn expectantly to the instructress. I have never quite felt the shining admiration for her that is generally expected. For she stands before me a burly tower of brawn somehow proud of the fact that she has muscles where curves should be. Oddly enough I have never felt that burning desire to someday blossom into this paragon of strength.

Truly, I am not the athletic type and have accepted the fact that it would take nothing short of a miracle to change my fate. I have suffered humiliation since childhood with my unsuccessful attempts to gain even a blue ribbon on "Play Day". Yet, I must endure the Board of Education's futile efforts to bring about this miracle. I admire their persistence.

A booming voice echoes through the gymnasium surrounding the statuary figures now at its command. "Today, class, we shall complete the volleyball tests and continue with F.M." Ah, fundamental movements — the exercise that I have affectionately and I feel appropriately renamed "fairy dancing". The accompanist at the piano strikes up a rapturous chorus of "Tip-toe Through the Tulips" and sixty arms and legs flail the air hopelessly attempting to keep in time. Yet, the instructress is somehow pleased with our progress. It seems that she utilized this ballet burlesque as part of her infinite efforts to mold these uncoordinated puppets into her own image.

Next she chooses someone to demonstrate a new routine. (I have often wondered what unusual and diverse circumstances prevent a personal performance from her.) She selects the performer from the elite clique of super athletes or is it just coincidental and ironic that invariably the Chosen is captain of the volleyball team and cheerleading squad. I guess one just cannot change human nature so I sit back and passively observe the unaltering pattern.

A deep bellow explodes from our sergeant and the troop falls into formation. Thirty blue uniforms of all shapes and sizes find their positions without hesitation. I have often pondered the mystery of these uniforms. Who is the diabolical genius credited with their fabrication? He certainly created an inspiration in impractical design! I marvel at the many fashionable details of this garment. Two short sleeves protrude from their seams to give the appearance of wings. The ever popular bloomer effect is created by the elasticized legs of the outfit and as a final touch a patch pocket and buttoned belt are added. But somehow this is not my idea of style. Thus my uniform has been subjected to vicious mutilation beginning with the removal of the fashionable buttoned belt and concluding with the dismembering of the wings. Add to this the fact that it has not been properly washed since last Christmas holidays and you can visualize my idea of style. (The latter point is publicly known and it is a frequent jest that my uniform stands up by itself in my locker and that I have to walk it through the halls.)

The situation as it stands presently, is not very hopeful. The new routine is a grand feat even for a super athlete. Now I have an unattainable goal. Now I must match this colossal physical achievement handicapped by my own physical incompetence. I am sure we are all born with different capacities for these bodily exercises. Each one develops according to the best of her abilities and no two people are alike in this respect. I have always felt that physical education cannot be classed as another subject we must contend with for it requires a special talent. One who has no talent in the field of art is never compelled to be an artist. Why is it then that one who has no talent in the field of physical training is compelled to be an athlete? Compelled is not too strong a word; physical education is as compulsory as mathematics. If we are incapable of complying with the demands in this field our scholastic average as a whole is affected.

A detachment from the force has been assigned to set up nets for the next impending disaster. I glance at the pensive faces surrounding me. Of course, the super athletes still maintain their cool, casual air, unaffected by the tense atmosphere that precedes a test. I have always had a certain sympathy for the Andersons and Browns who simply because of their unfortunate alphabetical positions are the first to undergo these trials. Then it is my turn. Surrounded by the critical eyes of thirty classmates, a singular soul stands alone in her fear and blindly makes her way to the net. The cold stern eyes of the examiner burn through me. My hands are clammy and the ball squirms from my grasp. I feel myself blush and with an embarrassed half-smile, recover the ball. I shoot it straight up ... perfect form ... It lands three feet in front of me. The examiner reminds me that the object of the game is to get the ball over the net and I hear snickers from the super athletes. I have never excelled in volleyball.

The rule stating that we must regard these tests with an awesome terror seems ridiculous to me. Why is it necessary to be humiliated in the presence of my friends and foes? For a person of my incapacibilities I feel that this method of testing is extremely heartless. Certainly, this public abasement only strengthens my unappreciative attitude towards physical education.

Once again the militant blast brings the troop to attention. The instructress informs us that today she has kindly granted us two and one half minutes to get dressed. We file out silently from the gymnasium like chided children but each one is content with the fact that she has performed to the best of her agility.

This year the oldest and biggest club in the school as well as the only one that caters mainly to grade nine, can boast 120 members. Included in the curriculum have been field exercises, range courses, signal groups and band practices. Our corps is now comprised of members from North Park, St. John's, Pauline Johnson and Herman Fawcett as well as a valuable contingent from the public schools. By joining cadets one becomes eligible to attend army bases in Ipperwash, Banff, and Jamaica, complete with pay. Cadets — a worthwhile experience.

staff awards programme

Recipients JoAnne Merritt, Cathy Curley, Kim Lewis. Absent Robin Lewis, Bob Johnston, Paula Resnick.

In 1967 along with the rest of the hoo-hah of Centennial Year, the staff of the BCI founded a bursary programme with their own money to give financial aid to any student with a worthwhile summer project. Nowhere in the city is there another undertaking as ambitious as this one.

Over the three short years of its existence the Staff Awards Programme has financed gymnastic courses, science seminars, theatre arts studies and even independent projects. We should all be proud of such a concrete example of our teachers' faith in ourselves, the students of BCI. Today when even justified educational reform seems to take centuries we have a sign of the future in the here and now: belief in the importance of an individual's determined pursuit of knowledge for knowledge's sake.

ontario athletic leadership camp

Candidates Sue Gibbs, John Anderson.

The Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp at Lake Couchiching is operated by the Department of Education and staffed by specialists in physical education. Each high school in the province may send one boy and one girl from grade eleven to attend this camp in July and August. The candidates must have leadership, academic and athletic potential. Courses are designed to develop the students' leadership, athletic and organizational skills to encourage a sense of responsibility, cooperation and self-confidence which will enable them to become capable leaders in their community.

young voyageurs

Voyageurs Frank Stanley, Marilyn McCleister.

The Young Voyageurs is a federal-provincial programme designed to enhance better understanding among Canadians from various parts of the country. Each year deserving students from grade eleven are offered an opportunity to visit another province for approximately one week to engage in activities of both a social and an educational nature.

BCI supported one more winning team this year as the Senior Girls' Basketball team captured the City Championship for the first time in five years. It was a fine season with only one loss in ten games. The team exhibited good sportsmanship and fine ability throughout, especially in the City Championship when they defeated Providence College 102-75 in a two-game total-point playoff series. They were defeated in the CWOSSA semi-finals by Waterloo-Oxford District Secondary School.

Thanks is extended by team members to Miss M. Welsh, through whose efforts they were able to reach and win the City Championship.

The badminton club had a successful season this year. At the city meet, Sandi St. Louis teamed with Janice Gibbs to win the girls' doubles while Jamie Corke and Bruce Wells captured the boys' doubles. Sue Gibbs won the girls' singles event. John Jakub, Murray Corke and Cathy Curley also participated in the city tournament.

At the CWOSSA tournament at the University of Guelph, Sandi St. Louis and Janice Gibbs took the girls' doubles and Jamie Corke and Bruce Wells again took the boys' doubles. Sue Gibbs won the girls' consolation round in singles. The team came second in the tournament with nineteen points to Kitchener Waterloo who had twenty-two points.

Special thanks to Miss Welsh for her excellent coaching.

city champs

This season, the Colts were a team to be reckoned with. The defense, headed by Bill Hignell was severe punishment; quick, hard-hitting and mean. Our secondary made a habit of receiving other teams' passes and was the best in the city. The offense was unusually good also, coached by Mr. Esbaugh and Mr. Wheatley. Spearheaded by Scott Bartle and Bill Gibbs in early weeks, the team had an aura of supreme confidence about them. After Scotty's injury, however, things changed — not much, just the faces. Ken Stemmler and Dan Kennedy did a great job in fullback. Bill Gibbs also headed a good passing attack with his best receiver, Art Showler. Mr. Holmes was responsible for the lines, so punishing this year, that one individual reduced his opponent to tears. The coaches did an excellent job with the team. They made it what it turned out to be — the city champions.

Man walked on the moon in 1969 and the BCI Mustangs walked on every other football team that dared to venture on a football field.

The Mustangs piled up almost a mile of yardage and an unbelievable 56 touchdowns with a somewhat confident offense while a stubborn defense yielded only six in return. They started off the season by moving like a machine, proving themselves early by crushing all other schools 43-0 en route to the Big Four championship. Need we say more? Yes. Always a winning team, the once laughed at Mustangs now shook the soils of southwestern Ontario. After breezing through the city conference and then burying PJ in the mud at the city championship, they moved on to the unsuspecting victim of Galt Collegiate. They not only took back to Brantford another lopsided victory but also the goalposts. Although the weather was cold, the Mustangs kept warm by continually lugging the pigskin over the Guelph goal line, needless to say, victorious in another CWOSSA championship.

The Mustangs also set a new CWOSSA record for fourteen season victories in a row. The team ended the season on a losing note, however, defeated by the girls of BCI (19-0) in the second annual Toilet Bowl, their second loss in two years. If the Mustangs continue at their present rate, not only can they win another CWOSSA championship but the school may have to charter buses to New Orleans to cheer the Mustangs on in the Super Bowl.

We extend our congratulations to the seasoned veterans who are moving on and to next year's team we extend our best wishes. We extend our thanks to the two finest football coaches in the city, Mr. Schertzer and Mr. Gardiner, who put up with some things only the Mustangs could do. We should like to thank the managers, the cheerleaders and all loyal fans in and out of the school. Without all these people, this year and in years to come, victory would not be possible.

"In 1969, 'track and field' became a common word in the halls of BCI." (or over the PA).

Coach Macklin

This year BCI broke twenty-two records in track and field.

In the Girls' Division, Jacki Fraser won the Midget title with the Junior going to Mary Beth Levan and the Senior to Marcia Wynn. In the Boys' Division, Jamie Corke won the Juvenile title, Bill Gibbs the Midget, Randy Allen the Junior and Dave Moule and Ed DuDomaine tied for Senior. Other participants and record-breakers included Ed Takacs, Marg Poplar, Jerry Jellis, Terry Kirby and Bill Simpelt.

At the city track meet, BCI ended up with the winning score of 331½ points. As Coach Macklin said, "It was on this day that the BCI athletes were at their best." The BCI Girls' team defeated the favoured Pauline Johnson team with Kathy Litman placing third in the Midget Division, Cathi Bonham fourth and Mary Beth Levan second in the Junior Division. Sue Arbuckle placed third in the Junior Girls Division and set a record of eight feet, three-quarter inches in the standing long jump. Virginia Schmidtke placed fourth and Sue Gibbs set a record of 104 feet, ten-and-a-half inches in the discus event. In the Senior Girls' Division, Marcia Wynn placed second, Audrey Powless fourth and a new record of five feet was established in the high jump by Chris Oliver. In the Boys' Division, Scott Bartle won the Midget title with Peter Ballachey and Al Squires each placing second. Randy Allen won the Junior title and Al Moffat came second. Dave Moule and Don Devlin each placed fourth in the Senior Division. Gary MacDonald set a record of 22.9 seconds in the 220 yard dash and Bob Brett set a record of 10.5 seconds in the 100 yard dash.

Records were broken at the City Meet by: Marcia Wynn (hurdles), Mary Beth Levan (hurdles), Don Devlin (discus), Randy Allen (440 yard dash), Peter Ballachey (100 and 200 yard dashes), Ed Takacs (mile), Scott Bartle (shot put) and Bill Simpelt (javelin).

At CWOSSA, so the rumour goes, Coach Macklin kept a four leaf clover clenched in his teeth for good luck and it seems to have worked. Both the Junior Boys and the Junior Girls Divisions were won by BCI. Sue Gibbs set a record of 104 feet, four-and-three-quarter inches in the Junior Girls' Discus, Mary Beth Levan won the Junior Girls shot put event and Kathy Litman won the Midget Girls discus. Marg Poplar (100 and 200 yard dashes), Marcia Wynn (hurdles), Sue Arbuckle (standing long jump), and Chris Oliver (high jump) also placed. In the Boys' Division, Bill Simpelt set a record in the javelin event and Gary MacDonald and Bob Brett placed first and second respectively in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Other placing participants were Al Moffat (shot put), Randy Allen (long jump), Terry Kirby (pole vault), Don Devlin (shot put) and Jerry Jellis (javelin).

At the Ontario Track and Field Finals in Toronto, Bill Simpelt placed second in the javelin throw, tossing it 178 feet and Terry Kirby placed fourth in pole vaulting with twelve and a half feet.

To the coaches, Mrs. Cappellani, Miss Welsh, Mr. Macklin and Mr. Schertzer, thanks are extended for their help and enthusiasm throughout a rewarding track year.

On Friday, September 19, 1969, our Mighty Mustangs led BCI to victory when we captured the Big Four Football Tournament with 89 points. The Mustangs, in their new golden uniforms put on an impressive display of remarkable playing ability. This year BCI was paired off with Pauline Johnson. Saint Johns' played PJ in the first quarter which was scoreless. BCI walloped the North Park Trojans 27-0 in the second quarter. Harold Johnson scored a touchdown and Gary MacDonald scored three on long passes. BCI also defeated St. Johns' Eagles in the third quarter 16-0. Dave Cheetham scored a major on a brilliant 55-yard gallop. Frank Binkley made a diving catch for a TD and kicked a field goal. The final quarter between PJ Thunderbirds and North Park was scoreless with the game ending 43-0 for PJ and BCI, all 43 points having been scored by BCI. It looked like the sky was the limit for our boys. The offense controlled the ball for most of the two quarters and the defense allowed only one first-down.

Dave Cheetham probably played the best game of his life and it came as no surprise when he was named "Most Valuable Player". As difficult as it is to pick out the best players, the following deserve special mention: Gerry Fairchild, Gary MacDonald and Tommy Pappas.

But this was only half the battle. The rest was up to the student body. Our cheerleaders too did a great job, receiving nine out of a possible ten points. The time and effort that they put into their cheers were certainly evident in the results. Congratulations are extended to Sue Arbuckle who was honoured with the title "Miss Cheerleader".

The climax of the evening occurred just as the team was about to receive the trophy. Suddenly, the sprinkler system came alive, squirting water in all directions soaking everyone.

Winning the Big Four involved an all-round school effort. We should be proud of our "Golden Boys" and continue to give them our undaunted support.

Sue Arbuckle "Miss Cheerleader"

Dave Cheetham "Most Valuable Player".

valedictory address

by Steve Lee

it is not fair of you, you know to have me stand here, lonely, and try to speak your mind.
it doesn't seem quite right somehow
i have too many memories
of us, together.
you should all be here should all say what you wish but then i guess there is not room enough – though if space was a problem
i cannot guess
why you chose me.
it was not fair of you,
but thank you, anyway.

a valedictory speech is not enough to say what has been felt not enough, to give promises or sing praises, or tell you what you feel and so i tell what i feel and even that is not enough.
i have too many memories
and you scare me for i have come once too often to ask you to listen to what i had to whisper and now i have not even whispers left but merely shouts of anguish and choruses of thankyou's and hosannas of fear – i am somewhat scared of leaving you.

a quiet night, tonight,
a night for making gentle love for growing old,
for incense, and for sorrow,
and last farewells.
instead, am i to perform for you in the usual manner?
to say how we, the leaders of tomorrow, are glad to join the world of men and women and thankful to the old school and jolly good show and all that? i don't really feel like performing.
i feel more like sitting in a corner, crying, or running over a mountain or letting out a final howl of laughter.

i'm out of here, i'm free, no more of this i'll do my own thing now can't you see me smiling?
it was only five years you know, though sometimes i thought it would never end and now it's over, thank god.
i'm out of this stupid place forever.
it was only five years.

i could die with laughter, when i think of the joke
they played on us.
priceless.
for five years they told us this, and told us that and said we were learning.
and we believed them.
and all the time we didn't realize the most important point...
nobody bothered to tell us,
our time was sliding by us,
and nobody bothered to say,
until our time was gone and nothing was left to be told, except good-bye, and good-bye merely scares me.

parents and teachers, they scare me too.
suddenly i realize how much they mean to me and how much they had to teach.
my parents – here's hoping you are proud, or satisfied, or happy or whatever parents are supposed to be, at times like these,
you have done too much for me,
too often, not to be.
you scare me, but i thank you.
my teachers – each of you is something different to me.
but all have my respect, my friendship and my envy, and i thank you too, for what you are,
and for scaring me.

the rest of you,
don't drift away too soon tonight
i need my friends and need to laugh and joke once more for a little while, though i apologize for merely muttering
my farewells
there is so much more to say.
let me see you smile again you, and you, and her, and him, remember smiling, remember good times for there were many of them.
remember when i thought i loved you yes, you, the blonde – or maybe you had black hair, or even red,

i don't remember
but it doesn't really matter
i know i thought i loved you once and you too scare me.
just a girl i went to school with, a girl i thought i loved and now you are a woman, and very beautiful tonight, and all very beautiful tonight.

and you, remember when you were just one of the guys and now you are a man.
young, confident, and debonair, as young men are
and i must admit it scares me to think i once shook hands with you i'd like to shake hands once again.

and no-one else to thank,
and no-one else to scare me i eagerly await the future exciting, exhilarating,
enchanted,
but i too old too soon tonight and sorry that i leave.

memory fades, friendship withers, but seeing me again
please say hello and smile once more for me and memory
it was very good and fine to say i was here
though the night is still dark, and quiet, and the lights bright.
let me wash away my tears with laughter.
good-bye always scares me and tonight, i am almost terrified thank you, my friends and good-bye.

commencement

Amid a decor of the lunar module approaching the moon's surface, parents and friends filled the auditorium on the evening of Thursday, October 30 to see the Four Year Grade Twelves graduate and the undergraduates be presented with scholarships and bursaries.

The following afternoon, diplomas were given out to all Five Year Grade Twelve graduates and the Headmaster's Trophy was presented to Gary MacDonald.

On Hallowe'en Night, the "Grads '69" returned to their former school to receive their diplomas, scholarships and other awards and listen to a valedictory speech given by Steve Lee.

Following the exercises and a reception in the cafeteria, the Annual Commencement Semi/Formal Dance was held to the theme of Hallowe'en, of course. The gymnasium was transformed by harvest scenes, pumpkins, a haunted house and a steaming cauldron stirred by real witches.

Although both Hallowe'en Night and the Commencement Dance ended at the stroke of midnight, this by no means ended the evening for most. Parties and gatherings continued till heaven knows when, to make the occasion a memorable one for all.

the crucible

This year, our drama club was again successful in its attempt at a major play. "The Crucible", written by Arthur Miller, is the story of a witch hunt in New Salem during the early colonial years. A group of girls, led by Abigail Williams, set out to have all those in their disfavour accused of witchery. As the plot thickens, it becomes obvious that Miss Abigail has her eye (and actually always had) on our hero, John Proctor. When Proctor tries to expose her plan to the court, he himself is accused. In the end, Abigail and the girls rob her uncle, the fanatical Reverend Parris, and leave the country while John Proctor dies a glorified hero leaving a cold and unfeeling widow. The play was capably directed by Mr. A.E. Morrison. Many thanks.

Our Best Actor award should be shared by John Starkey (Reverend Parris), Peter Ballachey (John Proctor), Dan Johnson (young Reverend Hale) and Eric Jones (the officious Deputy Governor Danforth). The actresses were superb, especially both Heather Summerhayes as the conniving young Abigail Williams and Carolyn Guest as Elizabeth Proctor, wife of John. Supporting roles were also well played and always in character. Susan Snow warrants special mention for her portrayal of a seventy-two-year-old pregnant, pipe-smoking drunk. What more can we say?

The stage and scenery were executed under the direction of Doug Newell, our stage manager. Lighting proved to be a good show thanks to "the boys", Larry Nemeth and Mr. Edmondson.

In all, it must have been a successful production — we thrilled our critic and received three standing ovations.

grade nine night

This year the night set aside to give newcomers to BCI a chance to experience school spirit and fun was a tremendous success. Everyone had a wonderful time and most everyone went home hoarse.

The evening began with a challenging game of mixed volleyball, which was followed by the girls' relay, the boys' relay and the wheelbarrow race. Then came the thrilling volleyball game played by our teachers. The pushball game, three-legged race, cheerleading competition and finally the obstacle course concluded the evening. Frank Binkley ran through the race and practically brought the roof down as he demonstrated the delicate art of squeezing under a row of chairs. The night's end saw Gold House the victor, 85-80.

Special thanks go to the Colour House Captains, Marg Poplar, and Frank Binkley (Blue) and Angie Pappas and Dale Oattes (Gold) and to Miss Welsh and Mr. Schertzer.

A Song

If you want to be a sailor
And sail the bright, blue sea,
Then go and get your sailor hat
And come and follow me.

If you want to be a wanderer
And wander the whole world wide
Then go and get your wanderer's shoes
And we'll go for a wonderful ride.

If you want to be a pacifist
And work towards peace,
Then come on people and follow me
And maybe wars will cease.

Who am I?
You ask it,
Who am I?

Come on people,
Don't you see
'Cause I am you
And you are me.

If you want it,
then it will be.

The Egg

Life is but an egg
Like Humpty Dumpty
Sitting on a wall
Trying not to get involved
But one does if one merely lives
And it falls and breaks
And one tries to pick up the pieces
But no one can put it together again
Not the king's horses, nor the king's men
And nothing is left
But the shell

A high-contrast, black and white illustration of a hand holding a paintbrush. The hand is rendered in a detailed, sketchy style with fine lines and cross-hatching for shading. The paintbrush has a thick, textured head and a long, thin handle. The word "BUY" is written in large, bold, white, sans-serif capital letters, slanted upwards from left to right. The background is solid black.

"Six Million Stones Make a Mountain"

one day
upon peering into the river jordan
i counted six million stones attempting to come to rest

but sad to say, they were again disturbed

by an arab mine and they floated about in this river of tears and made their way to the Dead Sea

but just like the salt which can be taken from this sea the stones shall also be withdrawn to make one great mountain
